FAITH UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

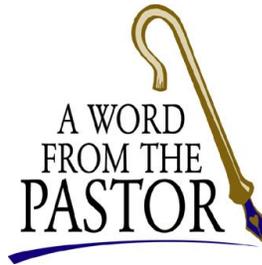

Dear friends,

There are so many things that I have in my heart to share with you! I begin with simply being thankful that 2021 is drawing to a close and that it appears we will make it to the end! I pray that this coming year will be less tumultuous for us as a community and as individuals, and that we will sense God leading us into an even better place than before.

On our way to worship last week, Dennis commented how many cars there were outside a Roman Catholic Church. He grew up Catholic, so I reminded him that their members were expected to attend worship every week; attendance for them is not looked upon as optional or a matter of personal choice, but as a necessity if one expects to enter God's heavenly kingdom. For us, we believe that spending that one intentional hour with other people of faith in worship of God will build up our faith and our souls. Not only is weekly worship the 'right thing to do' as followers of God, but, like so many aspects of faith, we are better off when we comply.

This is not unlike our Advent preparations. Sure, we can go through the so called 'holiday season' from Thanksgiving thru New Year's and never actually sense we are encountering the Holy. Yet when we become intentional about seeking the Holy, with all certainty – we will find and experience the Holy. Our theme this Advent and Christmas season will be entitled The Inn: Housing the Holy. It is our opportunity each week to focus on why and how God sent Jesus to live among us and the ways that will surely impact our lives. Like the unmentioned inn keeper, how might we house the holy? What would it be like for the Holy to be among us this Christmas? How can we house the holy as a congregation?

Ed Robb will further assist us in experiencing and imagining this expansive opportunity as we study his book, Making Room: Sharing the Love of Christmas. We will meet weekly at 1pm in the chapel at Faith UMC to reflect on his writing. Notice the earlier time. We have changed it to a daytime so that we can avoid folks having to drive after dark! Books are available at the church and everyone is encouraged to attend.

I know this time of year brings with it great apprehension for many folks. The stress of coordinating schedules, being sure everyone is safe and healthy, going thru the lists of things to do and gifts to give, significant memories and grieving loss of the past, etc., can be more than a little overwhelming. Have you ever tried to start a busy day without your routine? Without your coffee or medications or shower or whatever it is that helps you to get going? It doesn't usually go so well- your entire day can be thrown off! So it is with the 'holidays'. Remember that it is essential to include God's gift of the Christ Child and experiencing worship with other people of faith in order to grease the gears for the other aspects of the season. Let us be like that innkeeper the first Christmas and find a much needed space to House the Holy. Let us make room in our hearts and our lives for that which will enable us to flourish in our faith as we turn the page from Advent to Christmas to a New Year.

May your soul be richly blessed as you endeavor to House the Holy.

BETHEL COMMUNITY CENTER

Bethel Community Center needs your help this Holiday season. Bethel provides our area youth a place to get away from the hardships they may face at home. We accept students in Kindergarten through 12th grade.

Our students get a hot meal, food to take home, hygiene supplies and loving support from our staff and volunteers.

The majority of our students come from homes with income that is below the federal poverty level. Monetary donations to Bethel can be used to directly help those families who struggle the most.

Coming up on Saturday, December 18th, we will host our Free Christmas dinner. Our Board of Directors will prepare a hot meal with a main dish, sides, dessert and drinks for over 100 individuals. This will be served dine-in or to-go from 4-6 p.m. at 162 Ontario Street in Zanesville.

If you would like to donate to Bethel, checks can be mailed to Bethel Community Center, 126 Ontario Street, Zanesville, Ohio 43701.

Thank you so much for your support for our area youth and families in need!

Sincerely,

Amanda Hatfield, Executive Director
